Sure. I'll be in tomorrow until 4:30 PM. The towers haven't started, but all the components associated with the plan approval have been and are in service. I'll explain. Attached is the letter they sent. Please have the comment and response doc, dated November 16, 2007, in front of you when we talk.

Thanks much,

Heather

Hi –

Nick Bryan is calling me about the 30 days to complete initial inspection of valves. He thinks they have 180 days because it's a whole new facility...it's a new fractionation system, but the towers haven't started. Gas not associated with the columns can move through that piping, thus starting the 180 days.

I am just getting back from vacation. Can we have a short call late tomorrow to discuss? I asked him to send me the letter they sent you. Thanks!
